

him when he comes down to start the summer's extra Washington work on Monday morning. On the same floor are a lawyer, a doctor, insurance offices, a dentist, a real estate office, a tailoring establishment, and a very large telegraph office. If the boards on which his feet will rest are not too thick he will be able to hear the whir of flying cash registers in the department store downstairs. Across the street are a barber shop, a gambling establishment, and stores of other sorts. On the opposite corner is the Unitarian Church.

The younger Tafts were busy today. Helen Taft played tennis in the afternoon at the Essex Club. Robert was covering the eighteen holes at Myopia with his father, and Charlie, as usual, went fishing. Tomorrow morning the President expects to attend the Unitarian Church.

To Avoid Business.
It is understood that President Taft will pay as little attention to official matters as he possibly can, and he probably will not begin actual work on his message to Congress until he sets forth on his long Western tour on September 15.

The President said that he had no plans for the summer except to obtain the maximum amount of rest, quietness and recreation with a minimum quantity of state business.

The Federal Express on which he came from Washington also brought a car full of horses, as it is the expectation of the President to do some riding while on the north shore.

The final establishment of the summer capital in this city, after several weeks of delay, was a source of much gratification to the citizens of Beverly as well as those along the north shore of Massachusetts Bay, and everything possible will be done to make the President's visit here enjoyable and beneficial.

TO PROPOSE CHANGES

President Will Make Important Recommendations on Anti-Trust Laws.
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7.—That amendments to the Hepburn railroad rate law and the Sherman anti-trust law will be proposed by President Taft in his message to Congress at the December session is believed here.

The President is expected to appoint a committee to collect data on the subject and submit the same to him early in the fall. The committee is composed of Attorney-General Wickesham, Secretaries Ballinger and Nagel, Commissioner Prouty, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Solicitor General Powers, of the Department of Justice, and Representative Townsend, of Michigan, a member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, which framed the Hepburn bill. The committee will assemble in New York during the last week in August and will remain in session in that city about ten days.

After it has completed its labors it will proceed to Beverly, where the results of the conference will be laid before the President.

What He Is After.
Mr. Taft's commission also made known his purpose to recommend changes in the laws regulating corporations. He wants the anti-trust laws of the government correlated. For example, he believes that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be converted into a purely judicial body to pass upon the rates relating to rates, but to perform no business of an administrative character.

Prosecutions of railroads for violation of the law regulating interstate carriers and prosecutions of other corporations for violation of the anti-trust laws are expected to be brought to be created by the Department of Justice if President Taft's recommendations reach the form of law.

Aside from the conversion of the Interstate Commerce Commission into a judicial body, the President has under consideration one other important proposed change in the law under which that commission operates. He is understood to take the position that the justice of a rate which has been challenged should be passed on by the commission before it goes into effect, instead of being passed on after it goes into effect, as at present.

The brunt of the work of formulating the report to be submitted to Congress embodying suggestions in respect to changes in the laws regulating corporations will fall on the shoulders of Attorney-General Wickesham, who for this reason has given up hope of enjoying any extended vacation this year.

EVEN MARRIED DUKES LOOK UP

Fixed an ingenious automatic device for registering letters. The letter is dropped into a box and a pencil piece, purchased for 5 cents, is placed in the box. The credit is made by the machine, the credit falls out, and the corresponding number is stamped on the letter. This is the device for preventing the use of any except the nickel coin. This is accomplished by means of a magnet which attracts only iron and nickel. The latter very feebly. The attraction for the nickel is really calculated and makes it fall in a pocket which operates the mechanism. An iron piece on the other hand, would be strongly attracted and would miss the pocket.

PIERCING THE ANDES

Great Tunnel Five Miles Long and 12,000 Feet Above Sea Level.
SANTIAGO DE CHILE, August 7.—The work of piercing the Andes Mountains with a tunnel for a new road now being built from Arica, Chile, to La Paz, Bolivia, is progressing rapidly and it is now believed that trains will be able to pass through by the first of the next year. The tunnel, which will be five miles long, will be the highest in the world, piercing the Andes 12,000 feet above sea level. Seven hundred men are employed day and night on the work and American methods and machinery are being used.

WOMAN KILLED BY ROBBERS

Fought With Revolver and Routed Intruders, but Died of Wounds.
KIEV, RUSSIA, August 7.—Madame Niegovskaya, a well-known Russian writer, was killed yesterday on her estate near Orlutsk. During the absence of her husband, two robbers stole into her room at midnight, pointed revolvers at her and demanded her money. With

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable Cascarets and I find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to everyone. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family."—Edward A. Marx, Albany, N.Y.
